

Students

We're hiring...

User Experience/Interaction Designer

As a UX Designer you will build beautiful, polished products to excite and motivate users. You will consider user experience best practices, research and current technologies as you design and influence decisions. You will design interfaces that solve complex interactions to enhance our online conversations as we seek to mobilize tens of thousands of volunteers and engage students with the gospel. As a designer you will contribute a marketing and design perspective on various communications projects. As a UX designer you will monitor our digital presence and collaborate for increased effectiveness of our story, voice and interactions.

Responsibilities.

- Grow as a leader who is Christ-like in character and full of faith.
- Create and develop brands for products and materials in consultation with Creative Communications.
- Produce layout and graphics for print materials, websites and custom materials.
- Collaborate with various "clients" and "vendors" to accomplish design projects.
- Take ownership for one or more parts of the product user experience, designing the interactions and interfaces.
- Create documentation (including design rules, pixel perfect mocks, animations) that enables software developers and programmers to execute a delightful user experience.
- Design mock-ups, functional wireframes, product/site architecture, page flows and screen layouts with consideration given to user-centered design methodologies and organizational values.
- Develop and propose creative solutions that address overall design, site navigation and layout of content on digital properties.
- Cultivate and maintain a solid ministry partner team.

Skills.

- You have expertise in using Adobe Creative Suite.
- You are creative and flexible in your designs as you seek to cater to intended audiences (e.g., staff, students, donors, etc.)
- You are able to work independently, in a team, and with virtual/remote teams
- You are willing to take creative direction but can also work well with little supervision.
- You have a superior attention to detail.
- You have an enthusiasm for new approaches and technology.

Must-Haves.

- University degree or equivalent with formal training in Graphic Design
- A deep, growing, intimate relationship with Jesus Christ.
- Commitment to Power to Change's leadership, methods and ministry models.

Location.

- Guelph, Ontario

Ministry Partner Development.

Successful candidates will have the privilege to build a partnership team that provides financial and prayer support for the ministry. The financial support will cover the costs of the candidate's salary and ministry expenses. We believe that Ministry Partner Development is biblical and God will provide everything necessary to fulfill your calling into ministry: finances, emotional strength and perseverance. Building a ministry partnership team is an integral part of being in ministry.

Apply at join.powertochange.org

Questions: opportunities@powertochange.org

