The process people go through in becoming a Christian

Research and experience have shown that in today’s world, people pass through discernible phases as they come to follow Jesus. These “spiritual thresholds” trace the postmodern journey from distrust to trust, from complacency to curiosity, from meandering to seeking to finally making the choice to enter the Kingdom.¹

THRESHOLD 1: TRUSTING A CHRISTIAN

In order for postmodern people to be open to the gospel, they have to have a trust relationship with a Christian. The key to building trust is listening to and understanding the current reality of people’s lives. Only in the safety of a trust relationship will today’s Canadian feel comfortable exploring relationship with Jesus Christ.

THRESHOLD 2: BECOMING CURIOUS

The art of asking questions that connect people’s current reality of life to God is an essential part of building curiosity. Asking questions like, “What do you crave in life?” creates opportunities for Christians to help your friend connect these realities to God.

¹ This section adapted from: Everts & Schaupp, I Once Was Lost: What Postmodern Skeptics Taught Us About Their Path to Jesus, Downers Grove, IV Press, 2008. Used with with permission.
THRESHOLD 3: OPENING UP TO CHANGE

Your friend will generally open up to change when they see faith being worked out in your own life. When people start considering the possibility of God, they will look at whether it is real in your life first. Does faith in Christ work for you? This is where your faith story becomes powerful; showing your friend that relationship with God is not only possible but very good indeed.

THRESHOLD 4: SEEKING AFTER GOD

As your friends begin to seek after God they ask very difficult questions. “Is Jesus really God?” “Can I trust the Bible?” “If there is a God, why do so many bad things happen?” By now, your friends realize there is a void in their lives but, intellectually, they are on a quest to discover if Christianity is really true. Providing convincing and accurate answers to these questions is very important at this stage.

THRESHOLD 5: ENTERING THE KINGDOM

In order to enter the Kingdom, your friend must take the final step of repenting, believing and giving their life to Christ. In return your friend receives the immeasurable hope and love found in relationship with Jesus. There are many people who pass through the spiritual thresholds to this point but never take this final step. Yet those who come this far inherit the forgiveness, freedom and eternal life found only in Jesus Christ.

Important Note: Transitioning from one spiritual threshold to the next is a wonderful and mysterious work of God. It is possible to guide someone through one of these phases in one meeting. However, in today’s spiritual climate, progress through all of the spiritual thresholds will likely be a process of time.
Resources
SUGGESTED RESOURCE: myCravings

TARGET AUDIENCE: General audience

HOW TO USE IT: Use myCravings resources to start spiritual conversations in a unique way. Listen attentively and ask genuine questions. As you build trust, your new friend will naturally become curious about your perspective on the same questions. Use these opportunities to share your faith story.

RESOURCE OVERVIEW: myCravings resources are effective, non-threatening tools to spark spiritual conversations. Each tool features high-quality pictures cards which are great springboards for spiritual conversations, inviting people to talk about their deepest cravings. These resources train and equip Christians to engage others through asking questions and listening.

HOW TO GET IT:

Direct friends to the FREE myCravings survey here

Download the myCravings app at the iTunes Store here

Purchase myCravings cards online here
TRUSTS A CHRISTIAN

SUGGESTED RESOURCE: Perspective

TARGET AUDIENCE: General audience

HOW TO USE IT: Hand someone one category of Perspective cards. Ask them to select the card that best represents what they believe. Ask questions about why they believe that. Without being confrontational, allow the conversation to challenge the person's worldview. Don't interject your own thoughts or be judgmental. Share what you believe at the end if prompted.

RESOURCE OVERVIEW: Perspective is a disarming, non-confrontational tool, allowing people to share their beliefs about five important topics: Nature of God, Human Nature, Meaning of Life, Identity of Jesus and Source of Spiritual Truth. As you ask questions and focus on listening, opportunities will arise to have significant conversations about Jesus. Sharing the gospel is easy and comfortable as you identify people's barriers to faith, and converse about who God is and what He has done for us.

BECOMES CURIOUS

SUGGESTED RESOURCE: Soul Cravings Prequel

TARGET AUDIENCE: General audience

HOW TO USE IT:

1. Simply give Soul Cravings Prequel as a gift and ask people to read it. Advise readers to connect with a mentor to continue the discussion here.

2. Give Soul Cravings Prequel as a gift and ask to meet for lunch later to discuss the topic of cravings. Listen respectfully and allow the flow of conversation to naturally flow towards your own experience with faith.

RESOURCE OVERVIEW: This resource teaches you how to ask questions: What do you crave? Why do you crave it? Do these things satisfy you? Soul Cravings Prequel makes it easy to share your faith, inviting people into conversation on destiny, intimacy and meaning.

Over 80% of the people who receive this book want to engage in a faith discussion.

The full edition of Soul Cravings is available in French and English.

BECOMES CURIOUS

SUGGESTED RESOURCE: Crave: The Documentary

TARGET AUDIENCE: General audience

HOW TO USE IT: Give Crave: The Documentary to non-Christians to open up conversation. Also, use this resource to help educate yourself on how to ask questions that a post-Christian nation will engage with.

RESOURCE OVERVIEW: Crave: The Documentary interviewed non-Christians to prove they are open to spiritual conversation. The results confirm research that Canada is wide open to spiritual concerns. Through discussion of our intrinsic cravings for intimacy, destiny and meaning, the viewer sees clear demonstrations on how to ask questions.

OPENS UP TO CHANGE

SUGGESTED RESOURCE: MyStory.me

TARGET AUDIENCE: General audience

HOW TO USE IT: Give a person your MyStory business card, connecting them to your 3-minute testimony in written and video form. Continue the conversation through the MyStory website or in person.

Introducing people to your story is often the best way to open people up to change. When you build trust with someone who becomes curious about faith, they often want to know how it works for you.

RESOURCE OVERVIEW: MyStory.me offers a short, concise way to present your faith story online. MyStory.me is an online platform where you can upload your faith story, allowing viewers to hear your message, connect with you and engage in spiritual conversations. The site even helps you produce a customized business card with an internet link to your personal story.
